

St. Francis Hospice Dublin is a voluntary, not-for-profit organisation, which provides a comprehensive range of specialist palliative care services to patients and their families living in North Dublin and the surrounding counties, from two hospices located in Blanchardstown and Raheny. Established in 1989, St Francis Hospice Dublin serves a population of circa 660,000 people. Between its two sites the hospice employs 290 staff who are supported by 300 volunteers.

We are now inviting applications for the following role:

Head of Education

(Assistant Professor in Palliative Care Nursing)

We are seeking to recruit a Head of Education who will take responsibility for the education and training requirements across the Hospice and contribute to teaching and research. The successful applicant will have an established reputation in teaching and research in Palliative Care and will be expected to contribute to both undergraduate and postgraduate teaching in this field and in the interdisciplinary curricular teaching, supervision and mentoring. This post provides an exciting opportunity to actively contribute to developments pertinent to palliative care in relevant research areas which are of strategic focus for the Discipline, the School of Nursing and Midwifery, Trinity College Dublin and St. Francis Hospice Dublin and contemporary society.

Informal enquires are welcome. Please call Ms. Aishling Kearney, Director of Nursing, on (01) 829 4000 or by email aiskearney@sfh.ie.

To pursue your interest, please forward a comprehensive CV, supporting letter and application form to: Ms. Yolanda Cuadrado, Head of Human Resources, ycuadrado@sfh.ie.

The detailed job description and application form can be downloaded from the careers page on our website www.sfh.ie/career-opportunities.

Closing date for all applications is 12th January 2022
Shortlisted candidates will be interviewed on 21st January 2022
