

Online Palliative Care Study Day for Health Care Assistants

The Education team in St. Francis Hospice Dublin are delighted to announce this new innovative Online Palliative Care Study Day for Health Care Assistants. This course is designed for Health Care Assistants with an interest in developing their communication and caring skills when caring for individuals with life limiting conditions and their families.

Members of the interdisciplinary team at St Francis Hospice will deliver this course online to staff at your organisation on a date and time that suits you. Participants will receive materials in advance of each course day and this content will be built upon at the live day. The live day will consist of 6 hours of content.

The content will include:

- The Principles and Philosophies of Palliative Care
- Addressing challenging communication issues
- Nature of grief and loss and their impact on communication
- Communication with individuals with cognitive impairment
- Boundaries and Communication
- Communication and teamwork

Fees : Dependent on numbers in attendance, minimum number for course delivery is 10
